The Seniors gratefully acknowledge their indebtedness to all who have so generously aided them to reach the final goal at St. Rose. We bequeath to our successors all the excellent opportunities that have always been ours. Use them well and in your turn join the ranks of well-trained citizens who have learned in our cherished Alma Mater to so live in time as to merit to live gloriously for eternity.

We thank our friends—one and all.

Courtesy Council

This year the senior class organized a courtesy program in which the student body participated. The Council consisted of four members from each group.

Meetings were held each week in the school library. How to deal with problems of discourtesy, and the means of correction were discussed by the Council.

It is hoped that the students of St. Rose have benefited by the endeavors of the Council to make life both at school and home more pleasant and happier.

Members of the Council are as follows:

At the first practice of the year, Coach Fred George was greeted by a veteran backfield but an inexperienced line. He proved his coaching ability by forming these boys into a very capable forward wall. That the team worked together well was shown by their very tricky and complicated plays that had their opponents guessing from the first whistle.

This year's record was five wins, one loss, and two ties. Again, as last year, Fremont St. Joe, in the middle of the season, ruined our chances for an undefeated record. This did not dampen the boys' spirits, however, and they made sure that no more games were lost.

BASKETBALL

After giving the players a couple of weeks to recover from the bumps and bruises received in football, Coach Fred George ordered practice and found himself greeted with four veterans: John Callahan, John Zarro, John O'Connor, John Mulcahy, and a host of promising "rookies." Adding Tom Williams and Joe Lawler to these four he had his starting five and began the season with high hopes for a winning season.

A victorious season they had, winning fifteen and losing four. But the high point of the season came after regular season play, in the tournament at Ada, with the Cards defeating the mighty Pirates of Bluffton, by a score of 50 to 48. By beating Delphos and Bluffton, but bowing to Hicksville, St. Rose received a trophy for runner-up in the Exempted Village Parochial School District Tournament.

The Cardinals then advanced to the sectinal tournament at Celina and smashed Willshire in the first test 46 to 28. But no matter where they go in the tourney, this year's team endeared themselves to Rosarian Followers by beating the powerful Bluffton team.

Next year's team promises even richer success, although they will lose two seniors, John Callahan and John Zarro.

ATHLETIC BANQUET

The Athletes of St. Rose were honored Sunday, February 15, in the school hall. A delicious turkey dinner was served. Dennis McGraw, the toastmaster, introduced the main speakers.

George Quatman gave a speech about fair play, and thanked all who helped in any way in making this a better football season. The gist of Father McCullen's speech was good will in losing as well as good sportsmanship in winning. Fred George, our Coach, talked and gave a few highlights on the past football season. At this time Coach McArdle and Johnny Lujack, from Notre Dame, walked into the hall. After loud cheers and clapping, Fred George resumed his talk, introducing the players and awarding letters. Mister Grismer then took the floor and after rebuking the pair for their tardiness, lavishly introduced Johnny Lujack.

Johnny rose and eluded a tight situation by saying, "That was a very good introduction, Adam Grismer, you recited it exactly as I wrote it." He spoke of the behavior of athletes in public places. He told of rigid studying by the players of Notre Dame in order to keep up their average - any one who drops below this average cannot participate in any sport.

Coach McArdle spoke of his own school days and his first letter. He showed the picture of the Army-Notre Dame football game, giving a play by play description.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

The resumption of gym classes was welcomed by the girls of the high school. Much enthusiasm was displayed as they once again took over the gym floor for their athletic period. The girls chose their colors according to classes and set about getting gym suits. The first classes, held out of doors, included marching drills, exercises, and games. With the coming of cold weather, the classes were conducted in the auditorium. Volley ball headed the sports, followed by basketball.

STORY OF THE PLAY

The Hatters. What a family! Mad as March hares! Crazy as loons! Dizzy as pinwheels! Dippier than the Big Dipper! And nuttier than a Christmas fruit cake! In fact, they are all nuts! Margaret Hatter, the mother, is nuts about dramatics. Joe Hatter, the father, is nuts about fishing. Gigi, their daughter, is nuts about athletics. Bunny, their son, is nuts about photography, and Angelica, their housekeeper is just plain nuts.

Grandma Hatter has been supporting them for years and suddenly decides it's time to quit. She gives them all three months to prove they can make their own living. If only one of the entire family will succeed, she will renew their monthly allowance. Not having earned a penny in their lives, they unanimously agree to commercialize their hobbies and show Grandma Hatter a thing or two. Diana, the youngest daughter, returns from a trip and announces her engagement to Henry Harrison, an amateur playwright whose mother turns out to be an old rival of Mrs. Hatter in a stock company years ago. And from then on, things happen fast and furiously.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

The prom held at Shawnee Country Club was an event long to be remembered by the Seniors and Juniors of St. Rose.

Girls dressed in gay formals and boys in their best attire made a gala scene as they danced to the music of Hank Armantrout's Orchestra.

In the course of the evening speeches were given by Monsignor Elder, Fathers Dunn and McCullen. The class prophecy was read by Susie Cooney followed by the class will read by Dolores Wilson.

MAY CROWNING

QUEEN—Mildred Best

ATTENDANTS—Mary Evers - Louise Burke

CROWN BEARER—Rosanne Brennan

MAY PROCESSION

The most significant event of the year was held in May, the month of Our Heavenly Mother. It was during this month that Our Blessed Lady was crowned with flowers representing our love.

The statute of Our Blessed Lady was surrounded by candles, flowers, and ferns presented to her by the student body.

The girls, attired in white dresses and veils, marched alternately with the boys, while the senior girls, attired in formals, ushered in the Queen and her attendants. The senior girls stood attentively while the Queen crowned the Blessed Lady.

ORCHESTRA

Violins Catherine Schafer, James Bourk, Daniel Finn, James Fox.
Clarinet Richard Daley, Edward Finn, Thomas Dee, Edward Cooney.
Trombone Kevin O'Connor, Paul McNamara. Drum Robert Bishop.
Trumpet Walter Cooney, Paul Schulein. Harmonium Helen Schafer.
Piano Betty Callahan, Joan Debacher. Xylophone Shirley Redding.

The Orchestra at St. Rose is composed of both grade and high school students. They lend their services to many of the school activities.

LIBRARY

FOODS

The Home Economics Class is one in which every one of its members takes great pride. It offers a knowledge of the preparation of food and also gives instructions in sewing.

BIOLOGY

Students of Biology discover many mysteries concerning the life about them. The microscope reveals the tiny Amoeba with all its life functions. A comparative study of the grasshopper, crayfish, and frog teaches the student the degrees of complexity in nature. From the tiny one-celled plant to the more complex Lily is one revelation after another.

CHEMISTRY

The students of the Chemistry class discover the miracles of the world through a test tube. They are pictured engaged in the process of making nitric acid.

COMMERCIAL

These are some of the members of the Junior Typing Class who are mastering the intricacies of typwriting in order that they may become efficient secretaries.

FRESHMEN ALGEBRA CLASS

The Freshmen are mastering high school Algebra. Those at the board are busy dividing one equation by another in elementary math.

MISSION LEADERS

CLASS HISTORY

We now find that it is our duty to write the final history of the class of '47. We say this with a feeling of regret for there is not a member of this class who will not be sorry to leave the portals of our dear St. Rose.

Oh! What a happy little group we were just twelve years ago when we entered our first year of school. We soon grew accustomed to this new life and made rapid advancement in the three R's. In May, we dressed in white, made our First Holy Communion and most of our number took a step up the ladder and became second grade students.

We found the work here much more interesting and we liked the idea of no longer being the "baby class." We were confirmed by Bishop Alter during the year.

Our third and fourth years found us in the midst of multiplication tables and sandbox scenes. It was during the fourth grade that we demonstrated our "acting" ability by putting on a play for the entire school, portraying the holidays of February.

The fifth and sixth grades found us on the second floor of the grade school building and to us this in itself was a great achievement. We entered into all of the activities with real vigor, making a good showing in the Chronicle Drive.

The seventh and eighth grades were both very happy ones and also very serious ones. It was during this period that our country entered the second World War. Many of us corresponded with soldiers whose names were sent to us by Fr. Urban Wurm, one of our former assistant priests who became an army chaplain. Many of these friendships have never ended. We did a splendid job for the "missions" and also in the "paper drive." Some of the boys were on the Junior Hi Basketball team and many of the girls participated in sports as well as the Junior A Cappella. Still others helped out in the library.

We regretted to leave the grade school building but were also looking forward with anxiety to that day when we would be full-fledged high school students.

Oh! At last, Freshmen. Yes, we were no doubt green, but to quote, "it is the greenness of healthy growth, not the greenness of self-sufficiency or of ignorance." We soon knew our way around and only occasionally did one of our members end up lost in the midst of a group of upper-classmen. We were welcomed by a dance given by the Sophomores and thus met and made friends in the upper classes. We gave a return dance on Valentine's Day and what a success it was.

Almost before we were used to the term "Freshies" we found ourselves no longer Freshmen but Sophomores. Success at last as a member of the upper-classmen. We gave a welcome dance for the Freshmen and honored the Seniors at a breakfast on graduation day. As this class marched out we advanced another step up the ladder and thus became Juniors. The activities of this year kept us in a never-ending round of activity. By this time many masculine members of our class held prominent places on our various athletic teams. We were very proud of their achievement. Perhaps the greatest of the activities of this year was our Junior-Senior Prom which indeed was a great success.

As Seniors we have at last reached the top of the ladder and now shed a tear of regret as we leave everything that has meant so much to us. Maybe it's the sports you will miss or the Tuesday morning A Cappella meetings, or "burning the midnight oil" putting out the Rosarian, or even preparing for semester exams. The latter would indeed be missed but no tear shed.

Among our activities stand out especially our dances-Homecoming, May Day, Senior Class play, the Junior-Senior Banquet given by the Juniors and, last but not least, the receiving of our diplomas on graduation day.

We have tried our utmost to pay in some way the debt which we owe to our companion classes, our school and above all to God. As we go out into the future we will continue to strive to honor our Alma Mater and to live up to the high standard that she has set before us.
